LONG'S GREAT MEETINGS

Contrasted With Puny, Forlorn Pop Gatherings.

(Special Correspondence of the Eagle.) Stafford, Kan., Sept. 17 .- The weather has changed and is much cooler, but no "frost" has come, politically or otherwise especially not to Chester I. Long.

Less than two weeks ago, Former Lieu tenant Governor A. M. Harvey, fusionist, held a meeting here which he says, is the best he has held since his advent in the campaign. That even Stafford Populists admitted that Long's meeting here Saturday was 2 to 4 times as large as Harvey's and it was only one of the ordinary Long meetings.

The meeting was held in a mib tent and besides the filled seats, over 100 men stood around the edges, absolutely unable to find seats.

Robert Findlay of Sterling, candidate for state senator, in the Barton-Rice-Sufford district, accompanied Mr. Long and spoke briefly preceding Mr. Long. Mr. Findlay is a hustler and is making a good fight. There is little question of is election

Changes from Bryan in 1895 to McKin ey in 1900 are frequent and numerous in Stafford county as elsewhere in the dis trict. Among those who have changedhe substantial ones-are:

"I am for expersion and the flag, too, and imperialism doesn't trouble me at all."

Mr. Van Sickle has had a big whea crop this year, and will have more next year. His son, James Van Sickle, a forer Populist, now a Republican, is putting in 250 acres of wheat this fall.

The fusionists held a grand rally at St. John Friday, in which the throngs numinited States Senator W. A. Harris and Hugh Farrelly, candidate for Attorney keneral, discussed the "burning" issue of imperialism. The fusionists were asto ished at their failure.
